

Promoting independent living for people with disabilities for more than 40 years. Serving Nebraska and Southwest Iowa

Nearly $12M Given to Local Nonprofit Groups

Omaha Gives, Give to Lincoln Day Tap Into Generosity of Residents

This year's charitable giving days raised nearly $12 million for nonprofits in the Omaha and Lincoln areas.

Omaha Gives, a 24-hour online event, was Wednesday, May 25, benefitting nonprofit organizations in Douglas and Sarpy counties in Nebraska and Pottawattamie County in Iowa. In all, 46,251 donors gave $8,877,385.

The League of Human Dignity's Omaha Center for Independent Living and Southwest Iowa Center for Independent Living received $525, about half 2015's total.

Of the 783 Omaha-area nonprofits involved, 16 received more than $100,000 in donations each. Marian High School topped the list at $244,890, followed by Bellevue University with $238,635, and Siena/Francis House Homeless Shelter with $234,750.

Give to Lincoln Day was Thursday, May 26. It raised $3,075,335 in online donations from 13,767 donors. That fell short of the Lincoln Community Foundation's $3.5 million goal for the giving day.

The Lincoln event also accepted in-person donations in cash, check or credit card at the Lincoln Community Foundation offices.

The League's Lincoln CIL received $385 in online donations. The addition of offline gifts, though, brought the total raised to $2,385. That's $100 less than last year, probably due to the heavy afternoon and evening rains.

There were 350 Lincoln nonprofits involved in Thursday's event. Receiving the most was the Pius X Foundation with 44,746, followed by Jacob's Well with $44,627 and Camp Sunshine with $40,820.

More than 40 nonprofits set up booths downtown in Tower Square Thursday. That event, which included a donation station and performances by local artists and organizations, was cut short by thunderstorms that rolled into the city in the afternoon.

This was the fourth year for the event in the Omaha metro area and the fifth annual Lincoln giving event. The League has taken part in both events each year.

The need for funding has never been greater for the League, as with other nonprofits. We thank all residents of the Omaha-Council Bluffs and Lincoln areas who showed their support for independence and equal access for people with disabilities this week by giving during these two fundraising events.

CEO'S NOTE

I find it hard to believe that schools are out for the for the coming summer. It seems like time really does move more quickly, the older we get.

I am pleased to inform you that our efforts to enhance independent living services for high school age students who experience disability are beginning to produce results. Due to the receipt of a grant from Nebraska Vocational Rehabilitation Services, the League is excited to be collaborating with Lincoln, Ralston, and Wayne Public Schools to provide Living Well with a Disability classes to selected students from these three school districts. The classes will be held this summer and early fall.

Living Well with a Disability is a program that was developed by the University of Montana Research and Training Center on Disability in Rural Communities. This program provides valuable information that assists participants to understand how they can make a difference in their lives by planning for, and taking steps to lead healthier lives, which in turn should help participants to avoid the development of secondary disabilities. The course is provided over a 6-8 week period.

We at the League are hopeful that through successful collaboration with Lincoln, Ralston, and Wayne Public Schools, the Living Well with a Disability classes will continue to be available to not only the above mentioned schools, but students in other school districts in Nebraska and Iowa.

League's Extended Hours Service Meets After-Hours Transportation Needs of Lincolmites with Disabilities

Most of us take the simple act of getting around for granted. Getting to work, going to the store, getting to church, taking part in family events or social activities across town, getting wherever, whenever we want.

But what do you do if you have a disability and don't drive — and it's late or it's the weekend or a holiday, and the city buses and HandiVans aren't running?

The League's Extended Hours Service (EHS) is designed for just such times. It provides affordable, accessible public transportation in Lincoln for people with disabilities who need it, when other options are not available.

EHS is for people who are eligible for Lincoln's StarTran HandiVan service and who use Lincoln's fixed-route buses or other assisted transportation, or who experience permanent disability and do not have a vehicle of their own and valid driver's license.

A HandiVan or EHS identification is required — eligible residents can get both at the League of Human Dignity, 1701, P Street, in Lincoln. Stop in or call 402-441-7871 for details about eligibility and registration.

EHS offers rides weekdays from 5 to 11 p.m.; Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m.; Sundays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; and on Memorial Day, the Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's Day from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Each one-way ride is $4.

Reservations for rides are accepted Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Reservations may be made from one to seven day prior to a requested ride. Same-day requests are subject to space availability.

Contact the League's Transportation Coordinator for more information about this great program!

The League also is accepting donations to help support the EHS program. You can send us a check or money order, noting that your donation is for the EHS Program, drop by our office at 1701 P Street with a cash, check or credit card donation, or donate online on our website, www.leagueofhumandignity.com

Strategies For Getting Healthy

‘Having a disability
does not mean you can’t be healthy.’

People who have disabilities are twice as likely to be physically inactive as people without disabilities, according to the U.S. Surgeon General. As a result, they are less likely to stay heart healthy and to maintain strong muscles and bones.

Adults should be physically active 30 minutes a day, at least five days a week.

With warm weather upon us at last, that means there’s no time like the present to think about healthy activity and more time outdoors.

Having a disability doesn’t mean a person is unhealthy or that he or she can’t be healthy. Being healthy means getting and staying well so we can lead full, active lives. We need the tools and information to make healthy choices and to know how to prevent illness.

For people with disabilities, it also means knowing that health problems related to a disability can be treated. These problems, also called secondary conditions, can include pain, depression, and a greater risk for certain illnesses.

To be healthy, people with disabilities require health care that meets their needs as a whole person, not just as a person with a disability. Most people with or without disabilities can stay healthy by learning about and living healthy lifestyles.

Some of us may have a harder time getting and staying healthy, but there are things we can all do. Here are some tips for leading a long and healthy life:

- 1. Be physically active every day. Learn about physical activity.
- 2. Eat healthy foods in healthy portions. Learn about nutrition.
- 3. Don’t get too much sun. Learn about preventing skin cancer.
- 4. Get regular checkups.
- 5. Don’t smoke. Learn how to stop smoking.
- 6. Use medicines wisely. Learn about medication safety.
- 7. If you drink alcoholic beverages, drink in moderation. Learn about alcohol.
- 8. Get help for substance abuse. Find treatment services near you.
- 9. Stay in touch with family and friends.
- 10. If you need help, talk with your health care professional.
