

League Mourns Passing of Kevin Underwood

The League of Human Dignity is mourning the passing of Kevin Underwood.

Kevin, 62, was a long-time member of the League's Board of Directors and League volunteer. He died on Saturday, July 30, 2022.

A Lincoln native, Kevin was a graduate of Lincoln Southeast High School and attended the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, where he graduated with a degree in Accounting and Finance. The League relied on Kevin's expertise as a financial consultant. He also provided accounting and bookkeeping services to many Lincoln small business owners.

Kevin experienced quadriplegia. At age 13, he was involved in a trampoline accident, which damaged his C-4 vertebrae. After undergoing surgery, he received training in how to live with his disability at the Sister Kinney Rehabilitation Institute in Minneapolis, MN.

In 2008, Kevin was the recipient of the League's Ken Lindhorst Volunteer of the Year Award. A League volunteer since 1972, it was said at the time that he had grown up with the league.

Family members include his mother, Eunice; sisters, Debbie (Norm) Hedgecock, Nancy (Les) Buckley; brother, Scott Underwood; nieces and nephews, Jon (Jenny) Hedgecock, Jake (Taylor) Hedgecock, Greg (Kerstin) Buckley, Beth (Matt) Breunsbach, Grant (Kelsey) Buckley, and George Underwood; and close friend and caregiver, Steve Foster. He was preceded in death by his father George and brother Gregory George.

Kevin was a member of Trinity Lutheran Church. A private service was held at Roper & Sons South Chapel in Lincoln on Tuesday, Aug. 2.

CEO's Note

July 26th was the 32nd Anniversary of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The theme of this year's celebration: #ADA32 — Celebrate, Learn, Share.

Celebrate this landmark legislation that helped to transform the lives of individuals who experience a disability. The ADA made it law that businesses and public places have to be accessible to individuals and helped ensure reasonable accommodations to help employees perform the essential functions of their job.

We still see the results of the ADA being implemented today. In Lincoln, for example, curb cuts are being installed in the neighborhood near the Sunken Gardens. While I am thrilled to see that these sidewalks will be accessible to individuals with mobility limitations, I am disappointed that it has taken so many years for this to come to fruition. Even though the ADA has been an official federal law since July 26, 1990, many barriers to inclusion still remain.

I encourage you to learn more about the ADA. Learn how the ADA is enforced and who is exempt from complying with the ADA. The ADA does not apply to religious organizations, private clubs, and entities which historically have been exempt from federal civil rights laws. Historic properties are not exempt from ADA requirements. To the greatest extent possible, historic buildings must be as accessible as non-historic buildings. However, it may not be possible for some historic properties to meet the general accessibility requirements.

Visit the ADA.gov homepage to learn more about the it. This website includes technical assistance as well as general information about the ADA, its history and current legal cases.

And finally, share this information with others and local businesses. I encourage you to seek out patronize businesses that comply with the ADA. And, if you do go to a place that does not have an accessible entrance or bathrooms, make it a point to speak to the manager or the owner and ask them to consider making the establishment one that can be enjoyed or experienced by people of all abilities.

Celebrate, Learn and Share about the ADA on its 32nd anniversary. The unique law is the building block upon which inclusion starts for individuals with disabilities. This law provides equal access for individuals to so many elements of our American way of life. Know the ADA and make sure to be an advocate for the enforcement of this important disability rights law.

Norfolk Class Teaches Needed ‘Soft Skills’

The League’s Norfolk Center for Independent Living recently held a cooking class for students making the transition to life after high school.

The class, “The Independent Chef”, was sponsored by Healthy Blue and taught by Beth Plisek and Brenda Johnson, Independent Living Advisors in the Norfolk CIL. In all, 18 students took part.

Classes included activities adapted to the students’ abilities and learning styles. They covered the safe use of toaster ovens, preparing food, safe food storage, making grocery lists and shopping for food.

Through Healthy Blue’s sponsorship, each student also received a cookbook, thermal gloves and a new toaster oven.

The curriculum was designed to teach “soft skills” through cooking that can be carried over into successful independent living, employment and continued education. Soft skills include cleanliness, the ability to read and follow recipes, working together, listening and following instructions.

The League looks forward to sponsoring with Healthy Blue again, helping students become independent and confident in their own abilities and desires.

Uber Will Pay Millions to Settle Federal Discrimination Suit

The ride-sharing company Uber has agreed to pay millions of dollars to settle a lawsuit claiming that it violated the Americans with Disabilities Act.

The Department of Justice brought the suit in November 2021, charging that Uber violated the ADA by charging thousands of riders with disabilities discriminatory “wait time fees.”

Uber’s fee started two minutes after an Uber car arrived at a pickup location.

‘Reinvent’ Yourself During National Healthy Aging Month

If you’re over age 45, and want to improve your physical health, mental health and financial health, there’s no time to start like right now.

September is National Healthy Aging Month, an annual observance focusing on the positive aspects of growing older. The event is meant to draw attention to the importance of healthy lifestyles.

As we age, it’s easy to focus on the negative aspects of growing old. But there are just as many good things that come with age. September is Healthy Aging Month started in 1992. Its origins are credited to a TV special that inspired people to make lifestyle and dietary changes to prevent heart problems.

In 2000, Healthy Aging Magazine was launched featuring information on healthy lifestyle changes, and the Healthy Living website was launched in 2014.

Healthy Aging Magazine offers 10 tips for reinventing yourself:

1. Don’t act your age — or at least what you think your current age should act like.
2. Be positive in your conversations and actions.
3. Drop your negative acquaintances.
4. Walk like a vibrant, healthy person.
5. Stand up straight
6. Smile more.
7. If you’re lonely, do something about it — volunteer, take a class, whatever it takes.
8. Start walking.
9. Set up your annual physical and health screenings.
10. Find your inner artist.

For more information, visit the healthy aging website, healthyaging.net and navigate to the Healthy Aging Month page.

COVID-19 Infections On the Rise in Some Areas

Contrary to what many believe – or hope – the COVID-19 pandemic has not gone away.

In fact, we are in the middle of a big resurgence in infections across the middle of the country, due in part to new variants of the virus and a lack of mitigation efforts, like wearing masks and social distancing.

In Lincoln, the city's COVID-19 tracker had risen into the orange, or "High" range as of July 12, and the city reinstated a mask mandate for city employees.

Healthcare workers are noting that the increase – which is happening across the middle of the country – along with little if any mitigation points to a big surge in infections this fall.

Nebraska reported 3,535 new cases for the week ending July 8, up from 3,474 the week before. Hospitalizations were up 11 percent, with 168 – the highest since March – and there were three deaths as a result of the virus.

Nebraska saw a 28 percent increase in COVID cases over the two-week period ending July 8, the sixth-highest in the nation.

Iowa saw a 30 percent jump in new cases, with 5,187 new cases reported, up from about 3,900 per week for the previous four-week period. Of those, 229 were hospitalized, with 23 in intensive care and 15 deaths as a result of the virus.

Iowa reports 62.4 percent of its residents are fully vaccinated.

The League of Human Dignity Celebrates 32 Years of the ADA

We are grateful for our friends and supporters who also long for a society without barriers or discrimination based on disability. In honor of the 32nd anniversary of this landmark civil rights legislation, please consider helping us fulfill our mission by making a gift to the League today.

Keep Reading with Talking Book & Braille Service

People with limited ability to read, hold a book or turn pages still can enjoy their favorite books and magazines, through to the Nebraska Library Commission's free Talking Book and Braille Service.

The program provides free audiobooks and audio magazines and braille through the mail and through digital download to individuals with a visual or physical condition, or a reading disability which limits use of regular print.

The collection consists of books and magazines similar to those found in a public library. The service is part of a nationwide network of cooperating libraries headed by the National Library Service, a division of the Library of Congress.

The program provides easy-to-use playback equipment on long-term-loan free of charge. Materials in the collection and the playback equipment are mailed to and from the library postage-free.

The service is available to individuals, as well as schools and other facilities, such as nursing homes, hospitals and senior citizen centers.

The program's in-house sound studios also record and produce audiobooks and audio magazines from Nebraska and regional authors as well as material about Nebraska and the Great Plains. The recordings from the Nebraska Collection also are made available for loan to patrons.

For more information, e-mail nlc.talking-books@nebraska.gov or call 1-800-742-7691. For more information, the Nebraska Talking Book & Braille Service main page is at the Nebraska Library Commission website, nlc.nebraska.gov.
